3-rd Call for papers

<http://www.pcbbe.agh.edu.pl>

The Polish Conference on Biocybernetics and Biomedical Engineering will be held in Krakow, Poland from September 20-th to 22-nd, 2017. The conference will be hosted by AGH University of Science and Technology. This second call for papers completes the information already published in 1-st and 2-nd CfPs available from the conference webpage: <http://www.pcbbe.agh.edu.pl>

Submissions quality is crucial

The Conference aims to present the state of the research from Poland and abroad to the international community. For this reason, the bigger challenge of organizing and attending the conference this year is English as a working language and opportunity of full paper submission. Consequently we assume strong involvement of the Authors in submissions quality, since only best papers can be presented this way. Other means to raise the quality it might also be reasonable to encourage partners from outside of Poland to submit their papers and to attend the conference.

For the reason to achieve best quality of published papers we invited several recognized foreign scientists to the Program Committee. Please be informed that except of Program Committee, an organizer-independent evaluation of proceedings book will be made by a Springer delegate before giving a consent to publish and by a Thomson-Reuters expert before indexing by the Web of Science.

New deadline for full paper submission

Due to numerous requests, we decided to postpone the deadline for full paper submission to February 28-th. Please note, that this is the last possible date and the deadline will not be postponed further. We express our gratitude to authors who already submitted their papers, they will also have access to their accounts to correct their submissions when necessary until the deadline. Other full paper-related dates are also slightly postponed.

The initial submission of full paper has to include only a resulting pdf file suitable for reviewing, while the final submission requires all source files (TeX, graphics, etc.). Although strict conformance to the format is not required for initial submission, organizers suggest working in TeX environment from the beginning as it saves time at the correction stage. For the Authors not familiar with TeX a short guide is provided on the website.

Conference fee

The conference fee (not including travel and accommodation costs) is:

- 1000 / 950* PLN (includes attendance, delegate bag, coffee breaks, one full paper submission and social program),
- 550 PLN (includes one additional full paper per registrant),
